Marines Charged With Bloody Slaughter

3,250 HAITIANS

Shocked Beyond Expression at Badly Performed Duties, Writes General Barnett to Local Commander.

PROBE OF CONDITIONS ORDERED A YEAR AGO

Indiscriminate Killing of Natives Has Been Going On for Some Time, Declares General in Report.

Washington, October 13.—Disclosure that a summary investigation of alleged "practically indiscriminate killing" of Haitian natives by United States Marines was ordered more than a year ago by Major General Barnett, then commander of the marine corps, was made today in publication of a report by General Barnett of operations in Haiti during American occupation.

Evidence at the trials of two marine privates for the killing of natives, "shocked me beyond expression," General Barnett said in a letter of September 27 to Colonel John H. Russell, commanding in Haiti, ordering an immediate investigation with the approval of Secretary Daniels. It was at once carried out by Colonel Russell, who submitted a report to the navy department March 30, 1920, but General Barnett said this report had not been turned over to marine corps headquarters.

General Barnett's report contains no indication of the result of the investigation for this reason, as it covers operations in Haiti only up to the time he was relieved as commander.

Report Is Ordered.
Secretary Daniels, it was shown, ordered General Barnett September 18 last to submit a special report on conditions causing the investigation. This report was incorporated in the general operations report made public today. General Barnett received the order while on leave of absence shortly after publication of statements by Senator Harding, republican presidential nominee, criticizing the naval administration in Haiti.

In his letter to Colonel Russell, General Barnett declared that testimony at the trials of the two marine privates as well as arguments presented by counsel for the defense, Lieutenant F. L. Speer, "showed me that practically indiscriminate killing of natives had gone on for some time."

"Judging by the knowledge gained only from the cases that have been brought before me," the general declared, "I think the marine corps has been badly lacking in right and justice, and that you see that this is corrected, and corrected at once."

Shocked Beyond Expression.
"I was shocked beyond expression to hear of such things and to know that it was at all possible that duty could be so badly performed by marines of any class."

"Left personal instructions sent to every officer and noncommissioned officer, both with the marines and gendarmes (Haitian constabulary) that conditions as shown by the evidence in the trial of the privates above referred to must be corrected and that such action cannot be tolerated for a moment."

Colonel Russell wrote General Barnett last October that he had "taken the matter up most seriously," and issued confidential order to his forces in Haiti, and General Barnett's letter, he said he also had issued a new proclamation to the Haitian people, the text of which was not given in General Barnett's report. The general replied he had ordered from members of the marine corps then in the United States who had previously served in Haiti that they should be ordered to give the return to Haiti of "any such people as may be sent back."

General Barnett's report did not contain any extracts from the two court-martial proceedings from which he deduced that indiscriminate killing of natives had taken place. The cases were those of two privates charged with illegal execution of a native, his letter showed, but there was nothing in the report to give any specific basis for the situation which General Barnett's letter to Colonel Russell ordering the investigation pictured.

Kindly Treatment Reported.
The navy department made public, October 5, a special report prepared by General Lejeune, now commander of the corps, on the work of the marines in Haiti during his term of office. It declared that "peace of office" had been maintained.

HARDING'S CHANCE IN BORDER STATES GROWING WEAKER

Tennessee Is Swinging Toward Governor Cox and Kentucky Also Looks Like Democratic Probability.

REPUBLICANS LOSE ON COLOR QUESTION

G. O. P. Leaders, Through Activity in Stimulating Registration of Negro Women, Create Big Reaction.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

St. Louis, October 13.—Senator Harding is spending one day this week in Tennessee, and a little later on the republican vice presidential candidate, Mr. Coolidge, will spend a day there.

Since there is no senator to be elected in Tennessee, there must be another reason for the two candidates giving a day of their limited time for campaigning to this state. The reason lies in the fact that the republicans this year hope to add Tennessee to the list of doubtful border states. To put it more strongly, the republicans hope to carry Tennessee. It is a real hope, based on investigation and knowledge, and not merely put out as campaign "big talk."

Up to very recently, I think the republicans have been to a degree justified in this hope, but at the present moment there is an uneasy backwash in all the border states which seems to favor the democrats. It is confined wholly to the border states.

Due to Color Question.
But as to the border states, while it might have been said two weeks ago that the republicans had a chance to carry all but one of them that would not be a true statement today.

The reason is wholly local—it is the color question. The local republican managers in many of these border communities were rather overaggressive in stimulating the registration of negro women. That, in connection with some other things that have come up in time.

Georgia Rallies to Call For Funds for Democracy

CONTRIBUTE, URGES SPARKS.

Joe Sparks, assistant treasurer of the national committee, on Wednesday wired to The Constitution this message to Georgia democrats:

"The democracy of the great Empire State of the South is aroused. Press the appeal, to every democratic man and woman in the state to make a contribution immediately to the democratic national campaign. We are riding the wave to victory. Georgia democrats cannot and will not fail the national democracy in this crisis."

Have you made your contribution?

If you haven't, then now is the time to come to the aid of the Empire State of the South and the democratic party. Georgia ranks at the bottom when compared with the amounts subscribed by other states to the national democratic fund, and a determined drive is now being waged by Finance Chairman C. J. Haden and Assistant Treasurer of the National Committee Joseph Sparks to place the state ahead of all others. Hundreds of democrats are making contributions, so no more appropriate time can be found to join with other loyal members of the party in a worthy cause.

Georgians are rallying to the appeal sent out by Assistant Treasurer Sparks and Chairman Haden the first of the week. Every day contributions are being sent to the chairman's offices in the Grant building, Atlanta, and newspapers, county chairmen and individuals. Remarkable progress has been made in the campaign during the past three days. It was stated last night, but many more and larger contributions are necessary to raise Georgia's quota.

Subscription by Dean.
Colonel Herbert H. Dean, of Gainesville, started Wednesday off with a $50 contribution to the campaign fund, opening the way to a large number of others received during the day. Twenty-one members of the fair sex also registered their approval of the democratic party during the day by contributing to the fund to send Cox to the white house with Roosevelt as vice president. Citizens of Dawson also sent $10 to Atlanta headquarters with the drive only just begun in their city, while contributions from Gainesville amounted to more than $100.

Throughout the country the tide is rapidly turning toward James M. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt, say party leaders. Citizens of Dawson also sent $10 to Atlanta headquarters with the drive only just begun in their city, while contributions from Gainesville amounted to more than $100.

Governor Harding, of Reserve Board, Refuses Definite Announcement, But Will Detail Board's Policy.

STATEMENT SLATED TO APPEAR SATURDAY

Delegates Much Grati-fied at Progress of Meet. Deliberate Deflation Is Denied by Harding.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON, Staff Correspondent.

Washington, October 13.—(Special.)—Something will be done to relieve the present situation in relation to cotton and other agricultural products. This was apparent from remarks made to the agricultural convention by Governor Harding, of the federal reserve board, today. While Governor Harding made no promise or statement which could be construed as committing the federal reserve board to any definite policy, the delegates to the convention felt greatly encouraged by his definite assurance that he will issue a new statement of policy covering all phases of the credit situation. This is slated to be made public Saturday.

"I am unable to commit the board to any line of action, but I will say that the organization will be in the highest and best service I hope by Saturday morning to be able to inform the country as to what we are able to do to relieve the present situation," said Governor Harding.

"I am and always have been in entire sympathy with agriculture. It has always rendered to the country the highest and best service. I was born in the south, and I think I know what the cotton industry means to the nation."

Governor Harding intimated that he was not in agreement with the published figures of the department of agriculture regarding the cotton crop for this year. He said the boll weevil was working havoc and he smilingly offered to cover any reasonable but that the department of agriculture had made even an approximately correct estimate.

Increase in Prices.

It was clear from what the governor said that he believed natural causes would contribute to an increase in cotton prices in a very short period. At any rate, he seems to be quite convinced that the progress of decline in cotton prices had been definitely and permanently arrested, or at least, if this is not so the decline would cease in a very short time.

"I am confident that the cotton price will rise."

BRYAN FAVORS CANCELLATION OF WAR DEBTS

Washington, October 13.—World peace "universal and perpetual" can be purchased with the ten billions of dollars the allied governments owe the United States, W. J. Bryan declared in an address here tonight, before the World Brotherhood congress. He suggested that cancellation of the war debt would go far towards the building up of a spirit that would remove the chief causes of conflict between nations. "Our nation, I submit," said Mr. Bryan, "has now such an opportunity to serve the world as no other nation has had and as this nation never had before. The allies owe us nearly ten billions of dollars and they cannot pay it. If they did pay it, they would have to collect it from their enemies and they could not collect this sum in addition to their own demands without sowing the seeds of a war more bloody than the one out of which we have come."

CITIZEN-OFFICERS OPEN ANTI-SPEED CAMPAIGN TODAY

100 Prominent Atlanta Men Sworn in and Will Make Every Effort to Enforce Traffic Laws.

GIVEN FULL POWERS AS PEACE OFFICERS

Members of New Force Are Warned of Dangers They Will Encounter. Regular Meetings Are Planned.

Characterizing the spirit of Atlanta, 100 of her leading citizens were present last night at the police station to take the oath of officers and to pledge themselves to uphold the laws of the city. They were given full powers as police officers, but will especially devote their efforts to preventing violations of the traffic laws.

This meeting, which grew out of the demand for the eradication of the speed maniacs and traffic violators of the city following close on the death of three people within 24 hours two weeks ago, was brought about in a great manner by an editorial appearing in The Constitution several weeks ago calling for the stopping of these violations.

Practically every man whose name was accepted by the police commission was present, in one or two instances substitutions being made for those absent. It was announced, however, by Chairman Maddox, that the entire personnel of 100 men, which had been authorized, had been recruited.

Prominent Men Present.

Doctors, lawyers, business men—they were all there and the spirit which was shown as they listened to their instructions and took the oath of office, bodes ill for future violators of the traffic ordinances.

J. W. Maddox, chairman of the police commission, administered the oath of office and explained to them their various duties. Speeches were made by Commissioner Aldine Chambers, Chief of Police Beavers, Commissioner E. H. Ingram, Commissioner W. F. McMurray, John E. Smith, president of the Automobile association; Alderman Harry Goodhart and Alderman Richardson.

Chief Beavers, in explaining the duties that would fall upon the citizen-officers, declared that it would be unwise for them to attempt to make arrests until their badges arrived which will be in about ten days. He also urged discretion upon the part of the special officers in stopping of cars, saying that many of the reckless drivers were dangerous men, such as bootleggers, rum runners and thieves, who he declared would not hesitate to take human life. He said that these dangerous characters often attacked uniformed officers, and that they would not hesitate, in his opinion, to use violence on plain clothes men.

The chief made it plain that the special officers would be expected to make cases against all criminals including bootleggers, etc.

Officers Are Warned.
The chief said that it would be advisable for two citizen-police-men to go together, and declared that the new force would have the right, as other policemen to arm themselves for self-protection. He cautioned the special officers, however, against using their guns, declaring that weapons were justifiable only

POSED AS MAJOR AND IS CONVICTED IN FEDERAL COURT

Ray Vincent, Discharged Private, Alleged to Have Secured Money and Liberty Bonds From Atlanta Woman.

HUSBAND "OVERSEAS" IN Y. M. C. A. SERVICE

"Home Had Been Wrecked and at Least Four Lives Blighted" by Vincent's Deception, Says Judge Sibley.

Ray Vincent, once a prominent figure in society circles, because of his supposedly brilliant "overseas" record, will be imprisoned in the Federal penitentiary for one year and a day, and will pay a fine of $300, following his conviction in the United States district court Wednesday on charges of manslaughter.

Vincent faced two indictments in federal court. To the first, charging him with impersonating an officer, he pleaded guilty, and on the second indictment he was found guilty by a jury. Under the first indictment he was fined $300 and sentenced to serve six months in the Federal penitentiary, and under the second indictment he paid a $100 fine and was sent to the penitentiary for one year and a day. The sentences of imprisonment are to run concurrently.

Only Four Witnesses.

The trial lasted only a short while. Fourteen witnesses had been subpoenaed by the government, but W. Paul Carpenter, assistant United States district attorney, permitted the case to rest after placing only four on the stand.

Following the testimony of the government witnesses, Vincent made a statement which proved a feature of the trial, which was well attended by prominent Atlantans. He declared, among other things, that he was not a military man, but that he had been a major in the United States army.

"I was virtually forced into putting on the uniform of a major by Liberty loan people, who told me to wear wound stripes on my speaking tours. Newspaper accounts were sent out ahead of me by campaign headquarters heralding me as 'Major Vincent,' and I played the part to protect them, so to speak. The fact is, I was more

GA. TECH TRUSTEES ASK FOR STATE AID

Urge Governor to Call Extra Session of Legislature to Provide Funds. New Trustees Elected.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Technological school, held in the Technological school here yesterday, a resolution was unanimously adopted urging the governor to call the general assembly together in extra session for the purpose of taking action that will relieve the school from the serious embarrassment into which it is placed on account of the failure of the general assembly to make provision for the necessary expenses for increased maintenance this year.

The resolution cites the fact that the failure of the general assembly to act on the bill for the maintenance of the school, and after both houses had approved an appropriation exceeding $100,000 to meet this extra expense, thus clearly manifesting the evident desire of the state's legislative representatives to save the Technological school from financial straits into which it had drifted.

The same thing is true of other state educational institutions. The action of the trustees of the Technological school, yesterday urged the governor to take prompt action, which, if not done, may force the school to close its doors and to suspend its student body.

Pursuant to action taken by the last general assembly, two alumni trustees were elected by the board yesterday.

George Gordon Crawford, one of the first graduates of the Technological school, was elected.

MILITARY RULE SET UP IN CHINA, RUMORS DECLARE

Shanghai, October 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Chang Tso-Lin, governor of Feng-Tien, has overthrown the Peking government and proclaimed a monarchy, according to a rumor current in this city. This rumor has not been authenticated, and no details have been received here, but Chinese officials have been profoundly stirred by it.

General Lishun, commander of Chinese government troops in the provinces of Kiangsu, and leader of a powerful political clique, committed suicide at Nanking today by shooting himself. The text of his will declared his action was due to developments at Peking and the failure of measures he had advocated for the "salvation of the nation."

CAFE PROPRIETOR DEFIES COUNCIL PROBE COMMITTEE

Willing to Go to Recorder's Court, or Out of Business, Before Meeting Investigators, He Says.

HIGH PRICES OF "FOOD" BLAMED ON "SERVICE"

Have Heavy Overhead Expenses, They Claim. Mass Meeting Is Called for Next Tuesday Night.

Defiance was thrown down Wednesday by one prominent Atlanta restaurant proprietor to the effort of the special committee authorized by council and appointed by the mayor to investigate food prices in the city, according to Mrs. W. N. Hanberry, a member of the committee, who reported that she called him over the telephone Wednesday morning and extended an invitation to the session Wednesday afternoon. She stated that she received the following reply:

"I will go to the recorder's court if I have to. You can force me out of business. I have made money enough to keep me the rest of my life anyway. I defy anybody to set my price. I will not cut my prices, and, if necessary, I will raise them." Mrs. Hanberry declined to name the author of the message, but stated that it came from the proprietor of one of the largest cafes in the city.

Mass Meeting Called.

Wednesday's hearing was the second held by the probe body and culminated in a call issued by the committee for a public mass meeting to be held next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the council chamber at city hall.

Before rendering any recommendation to the general council it is the desire of the committee to elicit comprehensive information as to opinion from the consumers' viewpoint as well as from the side of the restaurant men, whose operations are under investigation. The session Wednesday was given over to a discussion with a delegation representing the Atlanta Caterers' association.

They denied emphatically that they are profiteering and submitted arguments intended to justify the prices they are charging patrons. They told the committee they all have heavy overhead expenses and that they sell "service" to their patrons, as well as food.

Zimmer Is Spokesman.

Will V. Zimmer acted as spokesman for the association. He was asked the direct question by Commissioner W. T. Dregger, if any combination regarding prices exists in the catering association. "I never heard prices discussed at any meeting of the association," replied Mr. Zimmer. "If there is similarity of prices at different restaurants it may be because one man may get another's bill of fare and copy on down the line." He referred to Ruse & Cason as having been mentioned in the investigation as charging 45 cents for French fried potatoes. Ruse & Cason are not members of the Caterers' association.

Arthur Wisberg, manager of Silverman's cafe on Peachtree street, appeared at the hearing to explain the charge made at Tuesday's session by James Glendinning that this restaurant was assessing 50 cents for a Smithfield ham sandwich. Smithfield ham, said Mr. Wisberg, is an extraordinary quantity of ham and costs in quantity $2.40 a pound. For an ordinary ham sandwich he said they charged no higher than other restaurants.

The question of "service" then

INVADING SOUTH, HARDING PLEDGES DIXIE FAIR DEAL

Republican Candidate Voices Appeal for "Diversification of Politics" in Solid South.

HELPFUL PROTECTION NATION-WIDE POLICY

Speaking in Tennessee, Senator Attacks Wilson and League and Outlines His Course If Elected.

Chattanooga, Tenn., October 13.—To the voters of the democratic south Senator Harding tonight addressed an appeal for earnest consideration of republican principles, and gave a promise that "republican success in the election would mean 'the same policy of helpful protection to all American production, north or south.'"

In a speech at the auditorium here the republican presidential nominee suggested "diversified politics" as the thing required to remove the last trace of sectional misunderstanding. He emphasized that his party had no policy for one section that it did not preach for all sections alike, and prophesied a day when the interdependence of all communities would be fully understood.

The democratic administration he attacked for its conduct of affairs both at home and abroad. President Wilson, he said, repeatedly had dictated to congress, even at the expense of violating pledges of his own party platform, and finally had attempted to force acceptance of the league of nations covenant by depriving the senate of its constitutional powers.

Tours City's Points.
Arriving here early in the forenoon, the candidate spent virtually the whole day in an automobile tour of the section about Chattanooga, made historic by the battles of Missionary Ridge, Lookout Mountain and Chickamauga. In his address he referred feelingly to his experience, declaring the day had given him a new appreciation of the significance of the civil war in the making of America. He added that an ambiguity in the federal constitution had been responsible for the war and voiced a hope that no similar catastrophe would be courted by accepting a league covenant "containing a score of ambiguities."

"Looking back now in the concord of union," he said, "we note the governor was able to deliver lengthy addresses devoted principally to his arguments for the league. He made no rear platform talks. At most of the cities today the governor spoke from specially-built stands of three, four or five house squares, occupying virtually the available lawn and street space for almost a block's length. Windows and ledges of the courthouse and adjacent buildings were filled

HELP OF HARRIS ASKED BY LABOR

Coal Situation Called Alarming by Federation of Trades—Laws to Curb Speed Menace Asked.

Calling upon Senator William J. Harris to come at once to Atlanta and aid actively in settling the existing coal crisis before winter weather descends upon the people, the Atlanta Federation of Trades last night passed vigorous resolutions with reference to the "coal situation, which has already become alarming."

"Another resolution passed by the federation touched upon reckless automobile driving, which has been resulted in the death of several Atlanta citizens. This resolution called authorities to enact such laws as will speedily curb the menace."

The legislative committee of the federation was empowered to take whatever action it deemed proper to bring about a cessation of dangerous and reckless driving.

Mrs. Sharpe Commended.
Given its entire indorsement to the curb market, which has been in operation for several months, the federation adopted a resolution commending Mrs. Norman Sharpe for her activities in making the enterprise a success and authorizing the legislative committee to appear before the city authorities and ask for the housing of the public market. This resolution was unanimously adopted.

CALLS ON HARDING TO DEFEND STAND UPON WORLD PACT

Formal Challenge to Harding Issued by Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, on Behalf of Democratic Nominee.

COX READY TO CANCEL ANY OF ENGAGEMENTS

Continuing Tour of Indiana, Governor Charges G. O. P. With Hushing Real Facts About the League.

New York, October 13.—On behalf of Governor Cox, Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, today issued a formal challenge to Senator Harding to meet the democratic presidential candidate in a joint debate on the subject of the league of nations.

Acting for the speakers' bureau of the democratic national committee, of which he is chairman, Senator Harrison wired Senator Harry S. New, who occupies a similar position in the republican organization, offering to cancel any speaking engagements heretofore made for Governor Cox in order to bring the two candidates together.

Continuing, he included any and all republican speakers in a blanket challenge to meet other democratic speakers who, he said, would be willing to use a portion of their meetings from now until election day to discuss Senator Harding's position on the league with anyone who cared to debate the point.

HARDING AND TAFT AGAIN ARE SCORED BY GOVERNOR COX

Fort Wayne, Ind., October 13.—Attack on the league of nations policies of Senator Harding and former President Taft was continued today by Governor Cox in another campaign day's campaigning in Indiana.

That there was a "conspiracy" to deceive the American people by depriving it of the facts in this cause, through failure to print the league covenant in "reactionary" papers and in the republican campaign book, also was stressed by the democratic presidential candidate. He issued a statement calling upon league supporters to raise a fund for printing and distributing the covenant.

Six large Indiana cities were visited by Governor Cox in violation of recent campaigning. He addressed crowds aggregating many thousands at Delphi, Logansport, Peru, Wabash, Huntington and here, where he closed with a large street meeting tonight. All the cities visited today were county seats and the governor was able to deliver lengthy addresses devoted principally to his arguments for the league. He made no rear platform talks. At most of the cities today the governor spoke from specially-built stands of three, four or five house squares, occupying virtually the available lawn and street space for almost a block's length. Rheumatism's Pains Will Soon Begin

But You Can Do Much to Head Them Off.

So many people dread to see the fading of summer, for to those afflicted with Rheumatism it means that the comfort they have enjoyed during the warm season is soon to give way to the pains and pangs of this disease of torture.

Warm weather seems to render the germs of Rheumatism inactive and harmless—but soon they will arouse and renew their furious attacks with all of their old-time vigor.

Are you quite sure that you have ever treated your Rheumatism in an intelligent manner? Doubtless you have tried remedies by the score because the pains are always increasing in severity and are a source of constant suffering. But just here is where you make your mistake, as others have done by the thousands.

Just because your Rheumatism causes so much pain and discomfort you feel that the proper way to treat the disease is to endeavor to get rid of its pains. So you rush for the liniment bottle and begin to rub and rub in a frantic effort to relieve your suffering. And at times, possibly, you get some slight relief.

But did you ever know of anyone ever ridding themselves of this painful disease by the use of liniments or other local treatment?

A disease that can cause so much suffering is not confined to the surface of the skin, and cannot be successfully treated by local remedies. You have but to look around you at the numerous helpless victims of Rheumatism to confirm this statement. Ask any of them, and they will tell you that no matter how much liniment they use, each season again finds them in the grip of the disease.

Do you want to have the same experience? Or are you willing to take advantage of a treatment that has been successfully used by many victims?

Many cases of Rheumatism are due to a tiny germ in the blood, which multiplies by the million and carries its pains to different parts of the body. Such cases must be treated through the blood, and the disease germs eradicated before the disease can be conquered.

This is why S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy has given such satisfactory results in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is such a thorough blood cleanser that it removes all foreign substance from the circulation thus clearing it of the germs that cause the disease.

You must first remove from your blood the germs that cause your Rheumatism before you can be free of its pains.

Begin taking S.S.S. today—you can get it at any drug store. And if you wish any special instructions about your own case, our trained physician will take pleasure in giving you any desired information. Write fully to Chief Medical Adviser, 281 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.—(adv.)

with spectators. At Logansport the candidate spoke to a large crowd on a corner lot.

Much Confusion.
He encountered numerous difficulties, including strong winds, with dust, noisy small boys, roaring airplanes overhead, and confusion in the rear of today's crowds, and after the governor began speaking, hundreds left, apparently unable to hear.

Brass bands and automobile parades, daylight fireworks, siren whistles and a democratic women's quartette from Huntington, which accompanied the governor here from Peru, where other features of the day's Indiana campaign, in which Governor Cox received frequent applause and cheers.

"These great crowds," the governor said to one of his audiences, "tell me that the soul of Indiana is aroused."

Regarding the stand of Senator Harding and Judge Taft on the league, Governor Cox repeated charges that the senator was "vacillating," and declared that the republican candidate's recent Marion statement was his eleventh change of position.

Blatant Taft.
"Poor old Judge Taft," the governor continued, "tries to apologize for him (Harding) and tries to defend him, but he moves so fast that Taft can't keep up with him."

Governor Cox reiterated that the "great cause of the league of nations is about ready for the jury," and he stressed the declaration that league supporters should vote for him and opponents of Senator Harding.

"If I should be elected," the governor said, "the plain inference would be that the American people want the league. If Harding should be elected the inference would be that the American people want the league. I am sure that the way to assure our going into the league is to vote for the man who is against it."

Judge Taft's position, the governor said, "was a paradox or a puzzle."

Keep Watson at Home.
In many of his speeches today Governor Cox urged Indiana voters to "keep Senator Watson at home."

The Indiana republican senator, the governor declared, signed "the infamous road robin," and was a member of the "senatorial oligarchy."

The governor urged election of Thomas C. Cagney, democrat, for date for senator, who preceded the governor on today's rostrum, and promised to vote for "going in" the league.

Remaining here over-night the governor tomorrow will make what is virtually the opening of his home state campaign. He will spend most of the week in the week in Ohio and his itinerary provides for a rear platform address next Friday at Marietta, Columbus, the state capital. Earlier in the campaign Governor Cox made a number of speeches in Ohio, but the next day he left for Indiana, where he made his first extensive home work.

Request to Board.
That the federal reserve board be asked to request member banks to reduce their reserves to the minimum required by law, and to the extent of the surplus, to be used for the purpose of providing means necessary to market American cotton in foreign countries.

governor. "On the contrary, they are simply demanding what they have a right to obtain. But the federal reserve board has no money to lend; all it can do is to pass on paper for redemptive purposes. It cannot coerce the member banks. It has certain definite function to perform and these are all clearly indicated in the law creating the board."

Governor Harding denied emphatically that there had been any deliberate deflation. On the contrary, he insisted that there had been continued expansion and declared that the Atlanta district, as far as the federal reserve board was concerned, was treated with extraordinary generosity.

"The federal reserve board has done nothing whatever to deflate prices," said Mr. Harding.

Senator Smith, of South Carolina, who was delegated to give a general review of the agricultural situation, charged that Secretary Houston, by giving out certain "unfortunate interviews," had created a condition of mind among the small bankers that caused them to withhold credit. This, he said, had militated against agriculture, especially cotton, and had contributed largely to the decline in prices.

"What is a matter which you must take up with the secretary," said Governor Harding, "I have not control over him, and I am in no way responsible for his actions. I am sure that no statement has been issued from this office tending to create an unfortunate psychological effect among the farmers."

It was explained that the full board would be glad to see the committee perhaps sometime tomorrow, but it was in conference attempting to solve the very problems which the farmers presented.

John A. McSparran, master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, spoke in the cotton section of the convention. He said the federal reserve board, which had done such good work during the war, should certainly find the means of relieving the farmers of the present situation.

Night-Riders Scored.
Governor Harding said the federal reserve board had not compelled any banks to subscribe to government bonds. The bonds had been bought in such immense volume because the patriotic sentiment of the country had been fully aroused.

J. S. Wainmaker, president of the American Cotton Association, said night-riding would continue if the present situation continued. As the response Governor Harding declared that such a campaign of violence and intimidation would alienate public sympathy and make better conditions in the cotton section impossible.

The convention earlier in the day issued a statement declaring that the cotton section of the convention would result from continued deflation of prices. The wheat men said their situation was even worse than the position of the cotton men, and the sugarcane men of Louisiana declared they had no market for their products and no banks would loan on them. This was true also of rice, they said.

Altogether the picture was a gloomy and forbidding one offering very little hope, some went as far as to say that the future of an agricultural nation was doomed and the farmer would soon be relegated to obscurity no reduced to poverty. This, however, was not the general view. It was believed by most of the delegates that the out of the difficulty speedily would be found.

Meeting not Political.
C. S. Barrett, chairman of the convention, warned the delegates that the meeting was in no sense political and that it was not intended that the democratic party is on trial.

I want to call your attention to the fact that the general committee has drawn up the agricultural program for the convention, and it is not intended that it be changed, said Mr. Barrett.

A proposal by the cotton committee to recommend a total cessation of cotton growing for the next year, or until the staple sells at 40 cents a pound, was not assented to by the convention. Such a plan was deemed to be impracticable, and constituted a threat to the rest of the country.

The following is the gist of the report of the cotton committee, finally adopted by unanimous vote:

That, after a thorough investigation by experts, the present cotton crop, based upon prices now offered, is the most costly to the producer that the south has ever raised.

That in many sections of the cotton belt the farmer is unable to obtain financial aid from bankers and even on warehouse receipts, regarded generally as the very best kind of security.

That no aid can be obtained from member banks in the federal reserve system because of a general impression that the cotton crop is even on warehouse receipts, regarded generally as the very best kind of security.

That the war finance corporation should be recalled into existence for the purpose of providing means necessary to market American cotton in foreign countries.

That the federal reserve board has asked to request member banks to reduce their reserves to the minimum required by law, and to the extent of the surplus, to be used for the purpose of providing means necessary to market American cotton in foreign countries.

That the federal reserve board has asked to request member banks to reduce their reserves to the minimum required by law, and to the extent of the surplus, to be used for the purpose of providing means necessary to market American cotton in foreign countries.

pre-war basis of prices must be reached within a short time. The consequent effect of these utterances upon the member banks of the federal reserve system and the banking industry of the country generally, was to cause them to withhold such accommodations, as they might otherwise afford, because of the fear that the security taken would necessarily decline.

Action of Reserve.
The action of the federal reserve board in counting the bonds held by member banks as part of the commercial credit of the banks, holding these bonds, thereby enormously decreasing the power of such banks to extend the needed credits to the agriculture interests of their respective communities.

"Your committee feels that the officials of the treasury department and the federal reserve system have exceeded their authority when they publicly announced opinion as to prices of farm products which have resulted in disastrous price decline."

Stop Statements.
"We, therefore, insist that the federal reserve officers and officers of the treasury department shall discontinue and desist from issuing statements of their opinion as to prices of farm products, and that the attitude towards the trend of commercial values."

The committee recommends that the rate of discount for the marketing of the agricultural products be made as low as justified by a sound business and that the rate be uniform and that the rate be not changed during the period of crop marketing. The federal reserve officers will take such action at once, the report says, with particular reference to a more liberal policy in extending credits for the encouragement of exports, we believe that the distress and unrest among the farmers of the country will be greatly relieved."

Secretary of the Treasury Houston will meet the committee at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, Senator Overman said.

MEDICATED SMOKE DRIVES OUT CATARRH

Pleasant and Easy to Use.

Dr. Blosser is the originator of a certain combination of medicinal herbs, which he has reduced to a smokeable pipe or ready prepared cigarette which is meeting with unusual success in catarrhal conditions of the throat.

The smoke—vapor reaches all the air passages of the head, nose and throat, as the disease is carried into the passages with the air you breathe, so the antiseptic, healing vapor reaches directly to the affected parts.

This simple, practical method applies the medicine where sprays, douches, ointments, etc., cannot possibly go. Its effect is soothing and healing, and is entirely harmless, containing no cubes, tobacco or habit-forming drugs. It is pleasant to use, and a not sickening to those who have never smoked. Try it as a sufferer from catarrh, asthma, catarrhal deafness, or, subject to frequent colds, you should try this remedy without delay.

Any well-stocked drug store can supply Dr. Blosser's Remedy in cigarettes or powder for smoking in a pipe, or will order for you. Satisfaction guaranteed by a genuine money-back offer.

A trial package will be mailed postpaid in any envelope for ten cents (coin or stamps) by The Blosser Co., 212 N. 2nd St., St. Louis, Mo. Its delightful and remarkable effectiveness.—(adv.)

that no cotton be planted next year if present conditions continue brought on a lively fight.

Half of 1920 Acreage.
The report proposed that if conditions improve cotton farmers should plant only a 50 per cent acreage of this year's crop and if the world markets are open to reduce acreage one-third. After some discussion, the convention voted down a suggestion to defer action on the report until after the conference with the federal reserve board this afternoon.

Several of the agricultural interests from other sections of the country opposed the proposition to plant no cotton next year, declaring that it would make a bad impression on the country if the suggestion was adopted. Finally a substitute recommending that large acreage should not be planted unless conditions improve was adopted. Other recommendations of the cotton committee, which were adopted by the convention were: condemnation of night riding and other forms of lawlessness in the cotton belt, that the war finance corporation be rehabilitated to finance exports, the federal reserve board be asked to define that "orderly marketing" does not contemplate the selling of farm products below cost, that statements of officials affecting the price of cotton be discontinued, that the formation of an export corporation of not less than $100,000,000 be contemplated at once, and in lieu thereof the formation of pooling associations with the same end in view.

The committee also recommended that no low grade cotton including snaps and bolles be gathered this year, but left in the field for food purposes, and the recommendation was adopted.

SUBURBS WILL ASK INJUNCTION TODAY

Decatur and College Park
Move Against the Power Company.

Decatur and College Park, the Atlanta suburbs affected by the recent announcement that the Georgia Railway and Power company would raise rates between Atlanta and these suburbs from 5 to 7 cents, will both file injunction petitions in the Fulton superior court today, according to announcement made by heads of the municipal governments in these towns Wednesday.

These petitions will be presented to Judge George L. Bell, who will be asked to grant temporary injunctions against the proposed increase action of the Power company. The petitions, owing to their similarity, are to be presented simultaneously, so that hearings will be held on both at the same time. J. Howell Green and Judge Frank Harwell, appointed by Decatur to handle their petition, were in conference on the matter Wednesday, and City Attorney Broom, of College Park, announced that the petition of this municipality would be ready for presentation today.

COMPANY OF 82D TO HOLD REUNION IN CONNECTICUT

That morale was not entirely unknown to the American army "overseas," and especially to the men of the Eighty-second division, is a fact proved by the departure today of Joe B. Cooke, formerly "Captain Joe," for New Haven, Conn., where he will attend a reunion of Company K, 82d Infantry.

Reunions of larger organizations of the expeditionary forces are fairly usual, but instances wherein so small a unit as a company hold a formal gathering indicate an especial amount of loyalty and significance that there was much satisfaction in the way things ran during the days when France was the station.

Captain Cooke assumed the command of Company K after the promotion of Major Quincy Melton, well known in Atlanta, who was at one time city editor of The Constitution, and who now is in charge of The Metropolis, of Jacksonville. Major Melton, it is said, will also attend the reunion in New Haven.

Most of the personnel of the outfit was drawn from the New England states, and clippings from papers in New Haven and adjacent towns indicate that much enthusiasm is in evidence over the event at which two Atlantans will be guests of honor.

MODERN KU-KLUX WILL TAKE PART IN BIG PAGEANT

Once again the thrilling scene of hundreds of robed and hooded riders bearing the symbolic burning torches in hand and wearing the red cross upon their breasts will be seen by Georgians when a large number of the modern knights of the Ku-Klux Klan stage their review of the south from carpetbaggers in the pageant. "From Days of Old," to be presented by the Atlanta chapter of the Drama League of America, at the Southeastern fair on the nights of October 16, 25 and 27.

An element of savagery will be rendered by the colorful feathers, wampum and buckskin of several hundred members of the improved Order of Red Men, who will be the chief feature of one of the most interesting episodes of the pageant, portraying the early days of Georgia, when savages roamed the hills and valleys from Yonah mountain to the coast. The pageant, which will also take part with them in unique costumes.

Tribes in Atlanta and vicinity will have their full membership in the pageant. Among the tribes taking part will be the Cherokee tribe, the Chickasaw tribe, the Mohawk tribe, the Comanche tribe, the Natchez tribe, the Powhatan tribe, the Utey tribe and the Yellowwatch tribe from Lithuania, Ga.

New Marketing Channel Opened for Georgians By Steamship Company

New channels for marketing of Georgia and southwestern products are seen in the announcement Wednesday that the Pacific Mail Steamship company has made Savannah a port of call for its vessels sailing from Baltimore and eastern ports through the Panama canal to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and thence to the Orient. This announcement was made to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce by Horace W. Cross, traffic representative of the concern.

Mr. Cross has been in Savannah for the past several days and left Atlanta Wednesday night for Macomb and Columbus. From Columbus he will go to Chattanooga and from there to Baltimore.

The advantage accruing to southeastern shippers from this new service will not apply only to possibilities of cheaper shipments to the coast and via the coast to Oriental countries, but it will also facilitate commerce with the western coast of South America, since the ships of the Pacific Mail company stop at Christobel, on the Isthmus. The rates which will be available through Savannah and by ocean to San Francisco and other places on the Pacific coast will be approximately 20 per cent in reduction of the rates now in existence on railroads, according to Mr. Cross. Mr. Cross also says that the people of Savannah are enthusiastic over the increase in tonnage for that port that the new service will give.

Soldier Who Engaged In Fight With Adair Given Light Sentence

Albert Cummings, the soldier who recently engaged in a fight with George W. Adair, after driving a car into the Adair automobile at North Avenue and West Peachtree streets, entered a plea of guilty Wednesday in the criminal court to two charges—operating an automobile while intoxicated and driving a car at the intersection of streets without having it under immediate control.

Judge Andy Calhoun sentenced Cummings to three months in each of the two cases, or a fine of $25 in each case. Mr. Adair did not appear in court to prosecute him but sent word to Judge Calhoun asking for leniency.

ATLANTA CIVITAN CLUB WILL MEET TOMORROW

A meeting of the Civitan club, the newest of the civic organizations to make up the circle of 81 clubs in Atlanta, will hold its regular luncheon Friday at 12:30 o'clock in the Daffodil tea room. Aside from other business to conduct the club's first meeting, there will be an election of a permanent set of officers.

IT WILL BE FAIR FOR ANOTHER DAY, SAYS FORECASTER

Continued fair, at least through Thursday, is the way the elements stack up, according to C. F. von Herrmann, chief prognosticator of the local United States weather bureau. Atlantans are becoming accustomed to fair weather, and are just about to recover from the spread of winter which smote the town several days ago, and Mr. von Herrmann and his staff of assistants seem loath to dispel the general cheerfulness.

Don't expect much change in temperature or in general aspects of the weather for the next few days, says Mr. von Herrmann—but count on fair weather through Thursday.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED ON W. J. LOWENSTEIN

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Atlanta Trust company yesterday afternoon, a resolution was passed in memorial to W. J. Lowenstein, a member of the board who just recently died of sudden death. It was also ordered that an engraved copy of the resolution be sent to all members of the family of the deceased.

Besides being a member of the board of the Atlanta Trust company, Mr. Lowenstein was also president of Norris, Inc., candy manufacturers and a member of the Monarch Manufacturing company, one of the largest flavoring extract companies in the south. He was a member of the North Carolina society in Atlanta and of the Elks lodge.

"FLIM-FLAMMING" CONFESSION FAILS TO RESCUE HARRY

The flim-flamming confession of Harry Jones, a negro, in the criminal division of the Fulton superior court, which took place with the jury Wednesday afternoon, while he was being tried for robbery, resulted in a sentence of from 10 to 20 years for Harry. When put on the stand in his own defense, the negro attempted to show the jury that he was not guilty of robbery, but was guilty of flim-flamming fellow dukes through the traditional custom of "swapping pocketbooks." He consumed forty minutes in demonstrating his methods and in trying to show that he should be tried in Judge Andy Calhoun's court, where, he said, he would be fined $100.

GAY ACTS AS JUDGE IN GREAT ROME FAIR

As a part of his work in connection with the farm extension bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, M. C. Gay, secretary of that department, spent Wednesday in Rome, Ga., where he acted as judge of the agricultural exhibit at the fair and addressed a meeting of the farmers of that section on proper methods of marketing their produce.

Prior to his Rome visit, Mr. Gay he judged the agricultural exhibits of the Bartow County fair. There, also, he delivered an address to a large gathering of farmers on marketing.

GEORGIANS URGED TO ATTEND COTTON MEETING ON FRIDAY

With Georgia and other cotton states facing a crisis due to the recent heavy drop in the price of cotton, the Georgia division of the American Cotton association has issued a call to every one in the state who is concerned in the situation to attend the meeting of the division to be held Friday and Saturday in the house of representatives, state capitol.

The call is directed not only to cotton growers, but also to merchants, fertilizer dealers, warehousemen, bankers, public officials, lawyers, editors and others. The meeting will be attended by delegates representing the county branches of the cotton association, but it is hoped to have also a very large and representative gathering of all the interests affected by cotton, whether members of the association or not.

The opening session will be at 10 o'clock Friday morning. There will be sessions Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning. Among the speakers will be United States Senators Thomas J. Heflin, of Alabama; E. D. Smith, of South Carolina; and Hoke Smith, of Georgia; and S. Wannamaker, national president of the cotton association; Richard L. Manning, former Royal Arch degree of the Masonic temple Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Following the initiation a banquet was given. A large attendance of the members of the Mount Zion chapter was present to witness the initiative exercises.

Mrs. Julia Carr, of 307 Boundary St., Macon, Ga., in writing a letter that's about as fine a testimonial to the merits of Livatabs as could be written:

"I have been using them (Livatabs) for about eight months and they have always cleared off a clogged liver promptly. And they are the best medicine for the liver that I have ever used. And I would not be without them for any weight in gold. I suffered three months with liver troubles, and the Livatabs is the only thing I found to do me any good, so I am now well of liver trouble, and I am going to keep some on hand as long as I live."

If you are suffering from bad breath, sour stomach, constipation or other disorders caused by your liver, a desirable atmosphere is created by the use of Livatabs. They are the best medicine for the liver that I have ever used. And I would not be without them for any weight in gold. How We Care For Your Meat Cars

When you see a Swift Refrigerator Car going by in a train, it seems a simple thing that it should be carrying fresh meat up and down the country.

Like most of the packer activities which contribute to your welfare, you are so used to having this going on uninterruptedly, day in, day out, throughout the year, that you are likely to take it as a matter of course.

But it is not a matter of course. Every car you see going by means long hours of minute, scientific, painstaking care in preparation for what it is doing.

Every time a car comes in it is washed out thoroughly with scalding water. If any taint, any foreign matter, were present, this would get rid of it. Even the meat hooks are taken down from the racks and scalded with water and live steam.

When the car is thoroughly cleansed we put in 5,000 pounds of ice. But that is only preliminary. It only cools the car to the proper temperature. By the time the car is moved over to receive its load, this first ice is melted. More is then put in to keep the car cool.

Then the meat is hung on the sterilized hooks and the load of food is ready for its journey. It arrives as it leaves, clean, fresh, wholesome, appetizing; and your meat supply goes on unaffected by seasons or weather.

This is only a part of the service which Swift & Company furnishes, at a profit to itself so small—averaging a fraction of a cent per pound on all products over a period of years—that if the profit were handed on to the consumer, it would make a difference of less than a nickel a week in the meat bill of the average American family.

ALLEGED PLEDGE OF WILSON QUOTED

Senator Borah Caustically Comments on Two "Statements" He Says President Made at the Peace Conference.

Manchester, N. H., October 13.—President Wilson, in a speech at the peace conference, already subject of widely published controversy between him and Senator Spencer, of Missouri, declared that "if any covenants of this settlement are not observed, the United States will send her armies and navies to see that they are observed," Senator Borah, of Idaho, asserted in an address here tonight.

"The controversy between Senator Spencer and the president has been interesting," said Senator Borah, "not so much because it may illustrate the fallibility of memory, but because it shows how this league looks when you begin to view it in its practical workings. The moment you descend from the opalescent empyrean of theories to the world of concrete things it looks altogether different. So long as you confine yourself to the league on paper and dwell in the world of rhetoric, everything seems well. But when you get down to the actual workings of the league, it seems harsh and autocratic and altogether objectionable. When they tell us that the league will bring peace, everybody wants peace, and so favors the league. But when you turn from theory to fact and see it obligates us to send our boys across the sea, our army and our navy, it creates an uproar of disapproval and hastens explanations and denials. Yet that is precisely what the league in its practical workings means."

Two statements. "There are two things stated in the speech President Wilson put out as authoritative, which sustain every charge we have ever made against this gigantic autocracy based on force. The first statement read as follows: 'And back of that lies the fundamental and important fact that when the decisions are made the allied and associated powers guarantee to maintain them.' How are you going to maintain them except by sending the army and navy across the sea? We have first the solemn guarantee of the allied and associated powers to maintain all decisions and all boundaries. As to how we are going to do this is answered by the president himself in another place in the same speech, in which he says: 'If any covenants of this settlement are not observed, the United States will send her army and navies to see that they are observed.' We must not close our eyes to the fact that in the last analysis the military and naval strength of the great powers will be the final guarantee of the peace of the world."

"When the president was before the foreign relations committee Senator Knox asked this question: 'Suppose that it is perfectly obvious that there is an external aggression against some power and suppose it is perfectly obvious and accepted that it cannot be repelled except by force of arms, would we be under any legal obligation to participate?' The president replied to this? No, sir; but we would be under an absolutely compelling moral obligation."

Guarantee Settlements. "I take it that it will not make very much difference to the American people, to the sons and mothers of America, whether you call it a legal obligation or a moral obligation or what you call it, if it is an obligation absolutely compelling from the execution of which there is no escape. Is it not perfectly plain that we guarantee the settlements and the boundaries of Europe and that if there is an actual disturbance of these boundaries we are under an absolutely compelling moral obligation to send our armies and our navies across the sea? Is it not equally plain that we are carrying out the decisions of these men representing the whole world, the divisions which they made, the boundaries which they established, and that we are doing so by the blood and treasure of America?"

C. M. ALEXANDER DIES AT HOME IN ENGLAND

Noted Evangelist Had Hosts of Friends and Admirers in Atlanta.

Charles McCallon Alexander, of Birmingham, England, one of the most noted evangelists in the world and well known in Atlanta, having conducted one of the largest revivals ever held in this city about six years ago, in company with Dr. Wilbur Chapman, died suddenly at his home Wednesday.

During the Atlanta revival a number of years ago Dr. Chapman and Dr. Alexander held their meetings in a temporary wooden structure on Peachtree street, on the site of the Howard theater, where hundreds were converted and professed their faith. Many will remember with pleasure of Dr. Alexander in the North Avenue Presbyterian church during the six weeks of the revival meetings.

Dr. Alexander was closely associated with Dr. Chapman during the ten years of his work in this country. Dr. Chapman died about three years ago. Dr. Alexander was also very prominent in the foundation of the "Pocket Testament" movement.

Charles M. Alexander was born October 24, 1857, at Maryville, Tenn. Early in life he engaged in evangelistic work, directing his activities with great success to organizing and conducting large chorus choirs. He accompanied the Rev. R. A. Torrey on an evangelistic tour of the world from 1902 to 1906. Dr. Alexander made a second tour of the world with his wife, formerly Miss Helen Cadbury, of Birmingham, in 1906 and 1907. He was the compiler of a volume of hymns, and was engaged in evangelistic work in New York city from 1908 to 1918.

FORMER VIRGINIA SENATOR IS DEAD

Washington, October 13.—S. L. Lupton, formerly member of the Virginia state corporation commission, former state senator and widely known as a good roads advocate, died here today after an operation for appendicitis. The body will be taken to Winchester for burial.

The finer faces are sold at prices that make them worth many times their weight in gold.

Atlantans Are Auto-Bound For Great Rome Fair Today

With a flurry of exhausts, the caravan of Atlanta automobiles, filled with Atlanta boosters and civic heads, departs at 6 o'clock this morning for Rome, Ga., to participate in the abundant spirit and celebration of "Atlanta day" at the North Georgia fair. The start will be made from the Pryor street entrance to the Fulton county courthouse and a hundred prominent citizens have already signed up for the trek northward.

A tremendous welcome awaits the Atlantans on their arrival, according to reports which have been drifting to the town from the Floyd county seat, among the features promised being a banquet at the fair grounds, a program during an afternoon—especially designed for Atlanta's enjoyment, and a big night altogether, centered about a grand ball at the Armstrong hotel.

Mayor Key and John E. Smith, head of the Atlanta delegation—the mayor in his official capacity and Mr. Smith as president of the Atlanta Automobile association. Other citizens who will be well up in the homecoming procession are George Hanson, president of the Hanson Automobile company; Elmer Chief, V. B. Cody, Police Chief James L. Beavers, Aldermen D. R. Wilder, J. L. Carpenter and L. F. Strickland, City Comptroller B. Graham West, Superintendent Steve R. Johnston, of Grady hospital, and other civic leaders.

Colonel Eddy, commander of Camp Jessup, will make the trip and will be accompanied by the famous band from the motor transport corps.

Head of local recruiting for the army, will carry with him Captain Bachus, Captain P. H. Munson and a number of enlisted men.

Twenty young ladies from the Philathea class of the Baptist Tabernacle will make the trip, as will a large delegation from the South-eastern fair officials.

Headquarters in Rome will be at the Forrest hotel, and Mayor Key will be the orator for the Atlanta delegation, his address having been heralded in Rome as the occasion of the day. John Temple Graves' name also appears on the day's program of speakers.

Walker Lee, secretary to Mayor Key, announced Wednesday that Fred P. Gibbs, proprietor of the Melrose-McCrary Dental laboratory, will close his establishment for the day so that his employees may make the Rome trip.

Merry, of the Merry Light and Power company, has placed two big trucks at the disposal of the "On-to-Rome" committee, and the following have also offered cars for use: Newell Landers, city purchasing agent; George L. Duncan and Ralph L. Hale, of the George Mose Clothing company; Harry G. Poole, John E. Smith, George Hanson, the Bullock Motor company, the Brigan Motors company, and other individuals and dealers.

SAVANNAH PHYSICIAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

Savannah, Ga., October 13.—(Special.)—The funeral of Dr. John Alphonse Crowther, prominent as a physician and a citizen of Savannah, was held here Tuesday following his death late Sunday night. He had been in Asheville for some time, returning to his home here only a fortnight ago. Dr. Crowther was a member and a former president of the Georgia Medical association. He was born in Virginia in 1859, and is survived by his widow, three daughters and one son.

In proportion to population, Switzerland has many more deaf mutes than any other country.

EHRICH SUCCEEDS DIXON AS MAYOR

Savannah, Ga., October 13.—(Special.)—Ambrose Ehrlich, a member of the town council of Tybee, was today elected mayor of that town, succeeding James M. Dixon, recently deceased. Horace Stillwell was elected to the council in place of Mr. Ehrlich. With the Tybee road's consummation in sight, the development of a summer settlement several times larger than formerly existed on the island, appears to be assured.

GOLDSTAR MOTHER GIVES HER MITE IN LEAGUE CAUSE

New York, October 13.—Democratic national headquarters today made public a letter from Mrs. Marie A. Davidson, of Elizabeth, N. J., a "gold star mother," enclosing a "widow's mite" for "dissimulation of truth about the league of nations."

Mrs. Davidson, who sent to war four sons, two of whom were killed, expressed sympathy with "an honest and concerted effort by the nations of the earth to save, if possible, future mothers and sons from these sacrifices."

With 29 children among the witnesses, L. J. Kassar, a widow, was married to a woman near Cumberland, Md., the other day. Twelve of the children belonged to the bride and eight to the bridegroom.

SAVANNAH MINISTERS
JOIN LIQUOR CRUSADE

Savannah, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—The Protestant Ministers' association of Savannah yesterday took definite action to cooperate with duly constituted officers in the suppression of the liquor traffic, not by methods outside the province of ministerial activity, but in the way of stressing efforts to arouse public sentiment for lawfulness. A letter addressed to the mayor of Savannah by the ministers pledged their aid and intimated that with the sentiment of good citizens around it should not take as suggested by the mayor recently "a thousand extra officers and an expense of a million and a half dollars for extraordinary effort" to put down the illegal business in this community.

"Sure Ziron Helped"

Alabama Lady Describes Troubles Which Disappeared After She Took Ziron Iron Tonic

HEALTHY BLOOD is essential for a healthy system.

Healthy blood must contain the proper, natural proportion of red corpuscles—and red corpuscles are mainly derived from iron.

Ordinarily, your blood obtains enough iron from the food you eat. But if some bodily function is failing to do its duty in relation to the blood, the iron that is in your food will not be absorbed—causing you to be pale, weak, and subject to many little every-day ills and disorders.

Many people feeling the need of iron, have taken Ziron to help enrich their blood with iron, tone up their nerves, and to help restore the system to normal vitality.

Mrs. G. W. Hall, of 525 East Tennessee Avenue, Florence, Ala., writes: "I have been taking Ziron. I find that it has benefited me very much. I had such a draggy feeling almost every morning, also had dizzy spells. I am sure Ziron helped me in that way, for I haven't been troubled at all since I took one bottle. It seems to put iron in your blood."

Have YOU ever taken Ziron?

If not, try it. It may do you a lot of good.

WITHDRAW SOLDIERS,
MINE STRIKERS ASK

Activity of Alabama National Guardsmen Hampering the Strikers.

Montgomery, Ala., October 12.—Stating frankly that the orders under which the Alabama National Guards are operating in the bituminous coal fields of Alabama, where the union miners are out on strike, were interfering with the successful prosecution of the strike, Van A. Bittner, of Pittsburgh, Pa., international representative of the United Mine Workers of America, in company with a number of mine workers' officials and prominent Alabamians, urged Governor Kilby this afternoon to modify these orders.

The delegation coming to Montgomery on this mission today included Congressman George Huddleston, of the ninth district; former United States Senator Frank S. White and President J. R. Kennamer, of the twentieth district. Other officials of the miners' union and trades were members of the party, which was cloistered with the governor for an hour.

Congressman Huddleston and ex-

Senator White were the principal speakers for the mine workers, coming from the mass meeting held at Birmingham last Sunday afternoon, when strong resolutions were adopted urging the governor to withdraw the troops from the mine district, as well as demanding a modification of the order of General R. E. Steiner, commanding. Admitting the efficacy of the troops in preserving order in the strike district, the speakers especially inveighed against the order prohibiting public assemblies, declaring it to be un-American and tending to replace the civil with the military establishment, presenting a memorial setting certain statutes, the order of General Steiner and an argument against its enforcement.

At the conclusion of the hearing Governor Kilby informed the delegates he would take their memorial under consideration. Earlier in the day he had received a formal letter from the officials of the United Mine Workers requesting that he name a board of arbitration to try and bring about the strike now prevailing. "This board would be composed of a member from the mine workers, a member from the operators and the general public. The mine workers agreed to abide by any decision of such a commission would make."

Directly after receiving this proposition Governor Kilby caused a copy to be transmitted to the Alabama Coal Operators' association, as to whether they would join in such a proposal and agree to abide by the award of a commission, if not, his ruling in the action to be governed by the attitude of the operators, as a result of one party would mean time wasted.

Maternity Ward

System Defended

By Steve Johnston

In defending the system of handling new-born babies at Grady hospital, which Judge George L. Bell, in the Federal court, has caustically criticized during the hearing of the mixed-baby case, Steve R. Johnston, superintendent of the hospital, Wednesday issued a statement in which he said that the same system prevails at Johns Hopkins hospital, the Chicago Lying-in hospital and others.

Mr. Johnston's statement follows: "I regret that my good friend, Judge Bell, has seen fit to so criticize the system of handling babies at Grady hospital in the maternity ward. The fact that with the exception of the case now before Judge Bell, I have never received a complaint in the two years I have been in charge of Grady, and the further fact that in the case above mentioned, I did not receive any complaint until ten months after the babies were born, justify us in believing that the system is all right fundamentally. We are still doing business in the maternity ward having on hand at present ten babies and twenty-one patients."

BODIES WASHED AWAY,
AFTER STEAMER SINKS

New Orleans, October 13.—None of the bodies of those who lost their lives as a result of the sinking of the steamer Speedwell, September 29 in the Gulf of Mexico was picked up, according to information received by wires here today from the Sunoil. The message was signed by M. A. Davis, steward of the Speedwell, and said that the bodies all were washed away.

MEXICAN LABORERS TO ENTER LOUISIANA

New Orleans, October 13.—Louisiana agricultural interests were advised today that the commission general of immigration had authorized suspension of immigration regulations as to permit the bringing into this state of Mexican laborers for farm work. Shortage of negro labor in cane, rice, sugar and cotton fields made such action necessary, it was said.

BIG CROWDS EXPECTED ON FARM BUREAU DAY

Membership Drive Will Be Boosted During Southeastern Fair.

Farm bureau day at the Southeastern fair is expected to bring more county agents, farm bureau members and officers than any event of like character in the history of the Southeastern fair.

Secretary Striplin has notified president J. W. Morton that he will rent the largest tent available for the use of the organization as state headquarters, and it is proposed to boost the big membership drive, which is being started from the main office at Athens. It is expected that the organization will follow the plan that has been in vogue at the larger fairs in the north and offer some prizes that will interest their members in Georgia. In order to make the week of October 18-23 attractive, national President J. E. Howard, of the American Farm Bureau Federation will address the members at two meetings in the big tent. Other noted national speakers and prominent state speakers will be on the program, and it is expected that great good will be accomplished. The American Farm Bureau Federation is designed to do for the farmer what the chamber of commerce does for the business men of the city, and its campaign is meeting an enthusiastic response everywhere. In order to push the membership in Georgia, 60 or more paid organizers will be put in the field, and it is expected that their work will result in bringing thousands of members to the six days' meeting planned for the Southeastern fair week.

DETECTIVES RECOVER
VALUABLE PROPERTY

More than 100 fine silk shirts have been recovered by city detectives following the arrest of Will Jordan, a negro, who gave his address as 2228 West Peachtree street. The shirts were found in several suit cases, and are believed by the police to be the result of a number of daylight robberies reported to them.

Jordan is believed to be a member of a gang of burglars whose field of operation has been a residential section. Articles recovered by the officers include a suit case shipped to Atlanta from Rome, and which is believed to be the property of M. J. Smith, of Rome. A gold wedding ring identified as the property of F. J. Runyan, 262 Grand, and articles believed to be the property of J. C. Aycock, of 65 East Avenue.

WILL URGE JURY TO INDICT SLAYER
OF MEANS TODAY

An indictment alleging murder against J. C. Knight, the street car conductor charged with shooting and killing J. M. Means, assistant transportation superintendent of the Power company, Tuesday morning will be requested of the grand jury at its meeting Thursday.

J. M. Means, a special deputy, besides being assistant transportation superintendent, was shot and killed as he attempted to arrest Knight, following an alleged short-temper in his cash fare. A shooting fray, versions of which differ in important details, followed. Means was killed, and Knight received a flesh wound from which he is said to be recovering.

Knight asserts that he was attempting to commit suicide, and that Means, in an effort to prevent him, was accidentally shot. Means, in his last words, is said to have accused Knight of killing him.

Mr. Means is survived by his wife, two small daughters, Nellie and Evelyn, and three young sons, Hurt, Joe and Ted, and two sisters, Mrs. R. L. Snellgrove and Miss Alice Means.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning from the home, 345 Lucile avenue.

Do You Believe in America?

WE do.
We believe America is the finest country on earth.
We believe our Flag is the fairest Flag that floats.
We believe our Government is the best in the world.
We believe that every REAL AMERICAN is fair and square.
Today we hear on every side criticism of this and criticism of that. Men say America faces conditions such as we have never faced before.

But isn't that typical of America?
When our forefathers landed at Plymouth Rock they faced conditions such as they never faced before. From then on through the building of the mightiest nation of the earth America has always faced conditions such as were never faced before.

Faced them and OVERCAME them.
Are we any more entitled to the Grace of the Almighty than our forefathers were?

Is there any reason why we should not be called upon to face difficult conditions and situations?

Are we a weaker race than the pioneers who blazed the way for us through travail and terror, through privation and hardship?

Can we not face conditions with as brave and sturdy a faith in our ability to overcome them as did they?

BUCK UP, AMERICA.

Everything's all right. Adjust your mental attitude. Real Americans are not quitters and they are all fair and square. Critics are the disgruntled who have failed to GET WHAT THEY WANT OUT OF LIFE WITHOUT EFFORT.

Real AMERICANS will do all the saving of America this country needs.

The dahlias will be on exhibit Monday and Tuesday.

"NOTHING BETTER AS A LAXATIVE"

Asheville Lady Finds Black-Draught an Effective Remedy in Her Family for Common Ailments of the Digestive Organs.

Asheville, N. C.—Mrs. A. K. Jarvis, 44 Woodrow Avenue, this city, says: "I have used and heard of Theodor's Black-Draught for years, and I certainly have found it splendid for headache, sour stomach, indigestion and other ills that come from a deranged liver."

"My husband and I keep Black-Draught in the house and think it is splendid to keep off sickness. I have used it in small doses as a laxative, and there is nothing better."

"Black-Draught is a mild liver medicine. . . any child can take it. I have found it splendid with them for colds."

Theodor's Black-Draught has benefited thousands in relieving liver ailments. It helps to drive bile poisons and other unhealthy matters out of the system.

Black-Draught is a stand-by in thousands of family medicine chests. It should be in yours. Its use should help to keep the whole family well. Prompt treatment is often half the battle against many ailments.

Why Stay Fat?

The answer of most fat people is that exercise and dieting is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous a method to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or violent exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. One little tablet after each meal and at bedtime—as pleasant to eat as candy—will reduce your weight two, three or four pounds a week, and leave no bad results such as wrinkles or flabby skin. A good size box is sold by druggists for the amount to the Marmola Co., 94 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich. They will reach you by mail, prepaid in plain sealed cover. Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

America's Folk Music Exploited For Children by Great Artists

John Powell, by birth a Virginian, but by his art a citizen of the world, proved yesterday in a lecture before the juvenile department, Music Study club, that he can talk to children almost as well as he can play to grown people.

There was a big audience of boys and girls at Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church to hear him, and the quiet young man, with his unassuming air, his smile, as ingratiating as if he were a struggling student, grateful for the tribute of a hearing, instead of a celebrity on both sides of the Atlantic, caught the attention of his youthful audience at once by his opening sentence, "What is music?"

He has not a lecture style, strictly speaking. Rather in his manner purely conversational. His voice is even and musical, and his language, chosen probably with special view to the brief years of his hearers, was wonderfully simple, but expressive.

Post in the Musician.

The most interesting detail of the lecture was the story of the life of the musician.

He was not supposed to play the piano, but a lecturer, that is, a person who tells the story of the life of the musician.

Misses Virginia and Eugene Peed will entertain for Miss Emily Melton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neely's dinner to Miss Elizabeth Schlesinger and Lieutenant H. W. Johnson.

Little Folks at Halloween Party.

The weird lights which show through pumpkin heads, and have their air of mystery, were a feature in the decorations at the party Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr. gave yesterday afternoon to her little grandsons, Ewe Gay, Jr., in celebration of his fifth birthday.

Fall flowers and autumn leaves embellished the hospitable home, and in the center of the table in the dining room, where the "costs" were enjoyed, there was a life-sized, life-like black cat which nodded its head in welcoming fashion to the little folks as they entered all big-eyed with anticipation.

The little girls were given bonnets in yellow very ornately fashioned, and the boys high top hats.

Mrs. Charles Northern, in quaint costume, impersonated the proverbial Halloween witch, and distributed toys and symbols of the holiday to the guests.

Among the merry games played, prizes to the lucky winners were a ketchup doll dressed as a witch and a drum filled with candy for the boys.

Master Gay, the young host, wore a pink satin suit, and his little brother wore blue satin.

Dinner Party Tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neely will entertain at a dinner tonight in honor of Miss Elizabeth Schlesinger and Mr. Harrison William Johnson, whose marriage will take place Saturday.

Woman's Club Presents Friday "The Lady of the Decoration"

At Cable hall Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock "The Lady of the Decoration" will be given by Hettie Jane Dunaway, sponsored by the Atlanta Woman's club.

The performance will have beautiful stage settings, various changes of costumes, a splendid pianist, and Miss Kathleen Morris, pianist and accompanist, a pupil of Frank Le Forge is an excellent artist.

The members of the quartet are favorably known in Atlanta musical circles, individually, but this, their first appearance in ensemble, and great interest is accorded the announcement.

Messrs. Lester Aldrich, R. E. C. Dale, A. W. Browning and Russell Stokes comprise the quartet.

The performance will be given for the benefit of the club auditorium fund. Tickets, 50c, may be had from Mrs. Fred Forster, Ponce de Leon apartments, until Friday, when they may be had at the Cable Piano company.

Claude Frederick, Mrs. E. W. Charbonnet, Mrs. W. C. McCullough, Mrs. Cecil Alexander, Mrs. Catherine H. Conner, Mrs. Stacey Ernest Hill, Mrs. H. L. M. Nelson, Mrs. L. C. Mathews, Mrs. Sam W. Wilkes.

The Buckeye Women's club will have an all-day sewing Friday, October 15, at the home of Mrs. Lot-spech, Adelaide apartments, corner Lee and Oak streets.

A full attendance is expected, as the ladies will sew for the Home of the Friendless.

Welcoming Mrs. Alex King.

Mrs. Mitchell King was the hostess at a beautiful luncheon yesterday, when twelve guests were given the opportunity to welcome home Mrs. Alexander King, wife of the newly-appointed federal judge.

When, through administration appointment, Judge King and Mrs. King went to Washington several years ago, he to assume an office of distinguished honor, it moved from the city two of her most popular people, and their return has been an occasion of general congratulation among their friends and admirers.

The company invited to meet Mrs. King yesterday included many of her closest friends, and the occasion, a most happy one, was attended by artistic incidents.

From a plateau of pink roses and valley lilies there arose a vase filled with the same flowers. A ribbon of roses and lilies encircled the centerpiece, and the place cards were marked by little baskets of pink roses, all the accessory decorations in pink.

The young hostess wore a blue embroidered in the henna shades, and her smart hat was trimmed in coque feathers. The guest of honor was handsomely gowned in black.

I. C. Club to Give Dance.

The I. C. club will entertain its members and friends Tuesday evening, October 19, with an informal dance at Segadio's hall, 18 East Pine street. An excellent program of the very latest dance numbers has been arranged by Mr. Dick Tope's orchestra. All members and officers of the various clubs are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Ayer Entertains For Mrs. Jones, of Selma.

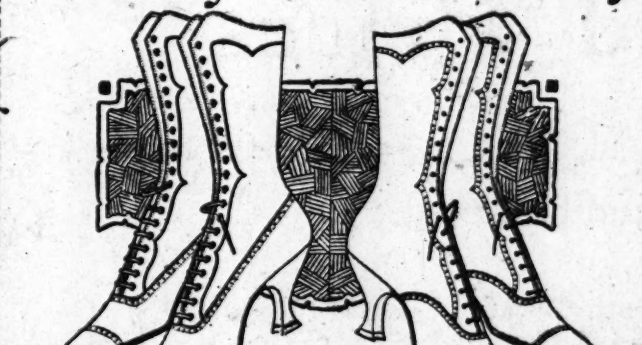

Mrs. C. K. Ayer is giving a series of small parties this week in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Roger Ayer C. Jones, of Selma, Ala.

This morning she will entertain at bridge at her home on Myrtle street, when her guests will be Mrs. E. G. Black, Mrs. Benjamin Crist, Mrs. Virgil Shepard, Mrs. James R. Thornton, Mrs. Alfred Truitt, Mrs. J. W. White, Mrs. S. Barker, Mrs. Clinton Howard, Mrs. Thomas Blackman.

On Friday morning Mrs. Ayer will entertain twelve ladies at bridge.

Yesterday she gave a pretty tea at the Capital City Country club, when her guests were Mrs. E. M. Boykin, Mrs. R. H. Grier, Mrs. McRee, Mrs. Palmerlee, Mrs. Clarence Coppedge, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Big Army Budget For Mexico, Despite Effort to Cut Forces

Washington, October 13.—The Mexican war department budget for the coming year is reported to be large in spite of the efforts of Provisional President De La Huerta to reduce the size of the army. The advice received here said the plan to cut the army to 50,000 men had caused trouble. General Calles, secretary of war, declaring it was because of the large number of "generals" who refused to be demobilized and insisted on being retained with their present rank. The general military situation was said to be satisfactory, practically every rebel having agreed to lay down his arms upon receiving one month's pay, a portion of land and farm tools. The cost of the program would make the budget unexpectedly large, it was said, but the tentative figures have not been discussed.

WAR IS DECLARED ON GIN POSTERS

Sheriffs in the Counties Where Gins Have Been Placarded Are Determined to Bring Guilty Ones to Trial.

With Associated Press dispatches telling of mysterious fires in Texas, Arkansas and other states in the cotton belt where cotton gins and warehouses are destroyed and with hourly reports arriving of additional warnings being posted on cotton gins, the "night rider" situation in the south is becoming acute.

The Bulah gin, 2 1/2 miles east of Bowman, Ga., was destroyed by fire Tuesday. It is thought that the fire originated in one of the engines. Several bales of cotton were destroyed. Arrests are expected to develop from the activities of the "night riders" in western Georgia. One man already has been arrested and is said to have boasted of being the head of an organized band of fifty men who would do his bidding in the matter and that the government is afraid to interfere with him.

In Jasper county, Georgia, a number of gins have been posted and armed guards are being placed around all the gins at considerable cost to the gin owners. No open breaks have occurred so far, but the owners have all declared themselves to be ready for any trouble which might arise.

Carrollton, Ga., October 13.—(Special.)—Following the posting of gins in Carroll county and efforts by "night riders" to intimidate cotton growers, Sheriff W. A. Garrett has placed under arrest one man and is on the trail of several others who are thought to have been connected with the outrages.

W. J. Hicks, of Paulding county, was arrested by Sheriff Garrett Saturday night. The grand jury, which is now in session, indicted him for gin posting and he is now out on $500 bond. It is said he was the leader of a band of fifty men who took orders from him and that the government was afraid to interfere with them.

Following an alleged statement by Hicks that other gins would be posted and the finding of a notice on a gin at Temple, six miles from Villa Rica, Hicks returned to that place Saturday and was placed under arrest. The "evidence" which they have in hand is sufficient for conviction and are determined to push the cases through the courts. A reward of $500 has been offered by Sheriff Garrett for the arrest and conviction of gin posters in Carroll county.

FIVE ALABAMA GINS WARNED TO CLOSE.

Arlington, Ala., October 13.—(Special.)—"Night rider" activity in Calhoun appears to have ended after the posting of the five D. C. Cooper gins in the county. No reports have been received of other gins being posted and it is believed possible that the threats will not be repeated.

A large number of cotton growers from all portions of the county gathered here today in response to a call issued by W. L. Jones, president of the Calhoun county branch of the American Cotton Association. Resolutions denouncing "Night Rider" activities, the burning of gins and the issuing of threats to ginners were passed and were adopted by the farmers all appeared determined to lend their aid to putting a stop to the lawless work of the "riders." A number of stirring addresses were made to the meeting. President Jones, Len F. Greer and other prominent cotton men making talks to the meeting.

BURNING OF GIN BELIEVED ACCIDENTAL.

Pine Bluff, Ark., October 13.—Fire, believed by the owners to have been due to sparks from a passing locomotive early today, destroyed the gin of the Ziba Benitt Plantation company, at Noble Lake, 12 miles west of this city. Thirty bales of cotton also were burned. The loss was estimated at $25,000. The possibility that the fire might have been incendiary was discounted by the fact that no warning had been given to close the gin.

GINS IN ARKANSAS SUSPENDED OPERATIONS.

Two cotton gins here suspended operations today when warnings were received to close down for six days "until prices get right." The warnings were the first indication of "night riders" in this section of Arkansas.

TWO GINS FIRED IN TEXAS TOWN.

Dallas, Texas, October 13.—Dispatches received today reported the destruction by fire of a cotton gin at Hurst, 10 miles from Dallas, Texas, and of another gin at Delta, 25 miles west of Dallas, Texas.

GINS PLACED UNDER GUARD.

Muskogee, Okla., October 13.—Three cotton gins at Haskell, 20 miles from here, are under heavy guard as a result of the finding of warnings against picking cotton owned posted on nearby farms to-day, according to word received here.

COMPRESS BURNING NOT INCENDIARY.

San Antonio, Texas, October 13.—The burning of the cotton compress at Cameron, Texas, Sunday, with 1,000 bales of cotton, resulting in loss of approximately $1,000,000, was not of incendiary origin, according to John J. Lawrence, special agent of the department of justice, who returned today from Cameron. Government officials are inclined to attribute the fire to spontaneous combustion caused by the close packing of cotton bales.

OKLAHOMA GIN WARNED TO CLOSE.

Reports received from Vian, Okla., stated that a gin at that place had been warned to close. Four gins at that place continued operations with guards posted about them. The gin at Vian, Okla., was warned to close by the number of states reporting night-riding activities.

GINS ARE GUARDED IN ARKANSAS TOWNS.

Fort Smith, Ark., October 13.—A cotton gin at Vian, Okla., has been warned not to gin cotton until the market price goes higher. It was reported over long-distance telephone tonight. Four gins at Vian are operating, but guards have been placed about them. Two gins at Lavaca, Ark., near here, were not operating today, following posting of warnings yesterday.

GEORGIA NEGROES FAST RETURNING TO SUNNY SOUTH

Macon, Ga., October 13.—Thousands of Georgia negroes who migrated to the north and east soon after the outbreak of the war, lured by high wages offered in industrial plants, are returning to Georgia and hundreds of others, unable to make the homeward trek because of lack of funds, are sending appeals to their former employers for tickets on which to travel back to Dixie, according to figures gathered by The Macon News.

Virtually all of those who return and those who are writing for funds state they have been thrown out of employment and now find themselves faced with the prospect of a hard winter in a strange land. The high wages received counted very little with them, as they were more than offset by the high cost of living in the industrial centers to which they went. Practically all of them return to their old homes penniless, glad to have saved enough from their high wages to purchase transportation back to the land of cotton, sweet potatoes, free quarters and free firewood.

One large paper mill company is building a mill in Burnsville, which will turn out 10,000 tons a year. Hitherto the pulp industry has been confined mainly to the temperate zones.

LYNCH ENTERPRISE TO SPEND $250,000

Macon, Ga., October 13.—(Special.)—Plans for the spending of a quarter of a million dollars in rebuilding and improving five Macon theaters owned by the S. A. Lynch enterprise, with headquarters in Atlanta, were announced today by S. J. Maurice, local representative of Mr. Lynch. The improvements are to be made within the next twelve months.

The Grand and Capitol theaters will be rebuilt; the New Macon, now under course of construction, will undergo changes which will increase the expense by $50,000, and the Palace and Princess will be remodeled. The Capitol, which was built in 1915, will be remodeled inside at a cost of $50,000.

L. P. Whaley, formerly manager of the Forsyth in Atlanta, has been made manager of the Capitol. The Grand theater will be closed as soon as the New Macon is completed, and between $150,000 and $200,000 will be expended in thoroughly rebuilding the playhouse.

The Palace, Princess and Macon were only recently purchased by the S. A. Lynch enterprise from the Empress investment company, at a cost of $150,000.

HARDING'S CHANCE GROWING WEAKER

the south in reference to the color question, has created a reaction. The democrats have not been by any means free from criticism in some of the ways that local democrats in the "border" states have used and are using the color argument. It is not an agreeable aspect of the campaign to discuss, and it is probably best to let it go with the statement that the republicans are, a little less apt to carry these border states today than they were some time ago.

The republican expectation of carrying Tennessee was based on several facts. The republican factions in that state are united for the first time in several years. Also, the republicans have a popular candidate for governor, "Al" Taylor, a brother of "Fiddling Bob" Taylor, who was a popular character in Tennessee politics some years ago.

Democrats Are Divided.

Furthermore, the democrats in Tennessee are badly torn by factionalism. One of Tennessee's senators, Shields, has come to a position, as regards the league of nations, which may fairly be called close to that of the irreconcilables. During the debate in the senate Senator Shields favored the league with reservations, but more lately he has seemed to go farther in the direction of the bitter-angers.

When an old-fashioned "state's right" democratic voter is incited, as some of them have been in Tennessee, by their own party leaders with the idea that the league of nations implies a partial surrender of sovereignty, and when they have got thoroughly "set" and hardened in that impression, then, as one disgusted politician expressed it, "about the only thing that will change them is a rock crusher."

Finally, among the reasons for the republican hope of carrying Tennessee is the fact that a certain number of business men in the state who are normally democrats this year wish for a republican administration and are willing to help bring it about.

Tennessee has never been so solidly democratic as most of the other southern states. In 1916 the democratic majority was only 29,000, and the year Taft ran, in 1908, it was only 17,000.

Spencer May Meet Defeat.

As to the other "border" states, Missouri still leans toward the republicans. But there is this to be republican senatorial candidate in addition to what I said about Missouri some days ago—as it now looks, the Missouri Senator Spencer, is expected to run some 25,000 votes behind Harding. That is to say, even though the republicans should carry Missouri in the presidential election, they might readily lose a senator there.

The estimate of 25,000 as the distance between the republican presidential candidate and the republican senatorial candidate comes from republican sources. It illustrates again what is almost universally true, namely, that in practically every state where there is a senatorial contest the republican candidate for senator will run behind Harding.

To any one who goes into these situations closely the probability of the republicans making gains in the senate becomes the real question of this campaign.

Curiously enough, the one exception to this rule is another of the border states, Kentucky. In Kentucky the republican senatorial candidate, Richard Ernst, is expected to run ahead of Harding, or to put it in another way, the democratic candidate, who is the present senator, J. C. Sweeney, is expected to run behind Cox.

For Kentucky, Cox was probably the strongest candidate for the presidency that the democrats could have named. A large part of eastern Kentucky feels a kinship to the papers, and for that reason to a certain extent takes on the color of Ohio politics.

Cox personally popular. Moreover, Cox has frequently campaigned in Kentucky, and is personally popular there. Finally, an able and popular democratic congressman in Kentucky, Campbell Cantrell, is a friend of Cox and took a leading part in giving him the nomination. For all these reasons Cox has a little better chance of winning Kentucky than any other possible democratic nominee would have had.

In West Virginia, for much the same reasons, and for the additional reason that the coal miners of that state are especially strong for him, Cox will make a good run; but it still remains true, as I said two weeks ago, that West Virginia is more likely to go republican.

In Maryland, when I was there some two weeks ago, the tendency toward republican success, both as regards Harding and also as regards the republican senatorial candidate, was very strong. However, the democrats have been stirred up by the spectacle of the large registration of negro women.

As things stand today, it looks as if Maryland would probably remain in the hands of the republicans between Cox and Harding is doubtful. (Copyright, 1920.)

College Girls Cheer League And President

Greensboro, N. C., October 13.—During an address to the girls of Greensboro college here today by Mrs. James W. Longstreet, wife of the confederate general, in which she criticized the league of nations, President Wilson and Governor Cox, the girls rose in a body, marched into the halls and gave repeated cheers for the league, President Wilson and Governor Cox.

According to officials of the college, which is a Methodist institution, Mrs. Longstreet said she came here under the auspices of a congressional committee to talk on Americanism. She spoke at the chapel exercises and immediately launched into a criticism of the league of nations, President Wilson and Governor Cox.

Members of the local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy issued a statement this afternoon condemning Mrs. Longstreet's action in delivering a political address before students of the institution.

Mrs. Longstreet is scheduled to deliver an address to a mass meeting of newly-enfranchised women voters here tonight.

Escapes Prison, But Is Arrested Trying to Enlist

John Diffilz, Alleged Fur Thief, Has Hard Luck When He Seeks Safety in Navy Service.

John Diffilz, alias "Buck" Jones, arrested today in connection with a theft of $1,200 worth of furs from the show window of a department store on Whitehall street, and who escaped by a clever ruse a few hours after his arrest, was recaptured Wednesday afternoon while attempting to enlist in the navy.

The fact that upon arrest he was placed in the city was the work of the police department instead of the state ward, made his escape possible. Seaburn Farmer, held on a disorderly conduct charge, was placed in the cityward shortly after Diffilz had been locked up. Farmer had put up a cash collateral bond and was being held until he became sober.

Farmer, who was sober, told the turnkey that he would thereafter abjure the use of intoxicants. He entered the recruiting station Wednesday at noon and presented himself for enlistment. The description of Diffilz had been furnished the recruiting officer by Mickey McLenon, chief yeoman, recognized the would-be recruit just as he was about to sign and held him back.

McLenon went into an adjoining room to communicate with the highest authorities, and Diffilz overheard him and attempted to escape by the window ledge. His vanishing cost him his seal and sealman, Chief Yeoman McLenon, returning from the telephone, and Diffilz was taken to the station for the furs and suit case.

That "Buck" Jones, among thieves, is seriously doubted by Herbert Gaines, the 19-year-old boy who was arrested in connection with the theft of the furs.

Young Gaines confessed being a party to the theft after he had been arrested. It is said, and further stated, that the suit case containing more valuable furs had been stolen from him in Birmingham. Investigation was, accordingly, made, with the result that the Evans, of Birmingham, was arrested, and the suit case containing four costly furs and more valuable furs was sent to Birmingham Wednesday afternoon for the furs and suit case.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically indorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal, and tell him to step into the nearest drug store with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—(adv.)

With reference to the coal situation, the federation adopted most vigorous set of resolutions, in which the possible suffering of the people was fully set forth, and the alleged profiteering of certain coal dealers was severely condemned.

The meeting of the federation was a most enthusiastic one, and the resolutions were adopted with unanimity.

UNWRITTEN LAW
BRINGS FREEDOM TO YOUNG HUSBAND

Henry J. Smith, son of George Smith, of Adamsville, was acquitted Wednesday by a jury in the criminal division of the superior court of the charge of assault with intent to murder, the unwritten law figuring in the trial, which was the result of the shooting of J. W. Eskew, a taxi driver, on the Cascade road, about two months ago.

The shooting will be aired again in the civil division of the courts later, when Smith's divorce suit brought against Mrs. Inez Smith, is heard by a jury. Smith, in addition to asking for a divorce, is asking the custody of his 2-year-old son, Attorney John Y. Smith and J. O. Ewing, counsel for Smith, contended that he was justified in shooting Eskew, on the ground that he surprised his wife and his victim in Eskew's taxi, Eskew was shot three times. This affair led to the shooting, the jury was told.

than willing to do everything I could to aid in the war.

Interesting testimony purporting to show how Vincent had won his way into the home of a well-known Atlanta family while the head of the household was serving overseas with the Y. M. C. A., and through misrepresentation obtained from his wife big sums of cash, bonds and other valuables, Mrs. D. O. Dougherty, 6819 Prado, was the Atlanta woman involved, and she was a witness for the government at the trial.

The Husband Testifies. D. O. Dougherty, the husband, was the first witness placed on the stand by the government. He said he left for France in September, 1917, leaving $3,100 in a bank, the key to his safety deposit box, a number of Liberty bonds, an automobile and other personal property with his wife. "I wanted her to be well provided for while I was away," he said.

After seven months' service in France, Dougherty said, he received news from Atlanta that resulted in his return home. Arriving here, he said he was financially wrecked, that his automobile, his bonds, his watch and key to the vault were gone. The defendant, he said, was apparently prosperous.

"My wife gave me a note for $1,400 which she had taken from Vincent as security for some of the numerous loans she had made him," he said. "I immediately sought him, and returning the note secured possession of two automobiles."

Photographs of Vincent, showing six wound stripes on his sleeve and a number of handsome medals arrayed across his chest, were identified by Dougherty. He showed several cancelled checks, which bore the signature of his wife, and had been indorsed and presented for payment by Vincent.

H. T. Adams, a garage man, testified that he was accompanied to a bank by Vincent, who showed him Liberty bonds and cash and boasted that he was a joint heir with Mrs. Dougherty to a valuable tract of Peachtree street property. Miss Annie Cline, chief nurse at St. Joseph's hospital, swore that Vincent had been confined in the hospital with illness for ten days during the autumn of 1919, and that he wore an army uniform with major's insignia, wound stripes and bravery medals when discharged as a patient.

Approaching the witness stand with tears in her eyes, Mrs. Dougherty first admitted an estrangement between she and her husband.

The Woman's Statement. "I met Mr. Vincent at Clayton, where I was taking a vacation with my children," she testified. "He was said to be in the army recruiting service, and was displaying war relics. Having been doing war work, I was much interested in him. He invited him to my home when he came to Atlanta. After that, I saw him often until the return of my husband. He came to my house quite often, and at other times I would meet him down town. I hardly knew whether he was regularly connected with the government, but by his pictures in the newspapers I learned he was connected with the liberty loan drive. When queried as to why she advanced money and property to Vincent, Mrs. Dougherty said she desired to help him get a start in business. With the first loan, she said Vincent established a taxicab line between Atlanta and Camp Gordon. The first loan she made him, she said, was $50, and with each loan the amount increased until she finally advanced him a $1,000 Liberty bond, and finally the automobile of her absent husband.

She expressed her belief that if her husband had been home, he would have "helped the young fellow start out in life." She admitted that when she made the loans she was aware of the fact that Vincent was not a real major. She said she helped Vincent to establish credit with several reliable Atlanta business concerns. She said she apprised her husband every night of "everything that happened."

In sentencing Vincent, who was formerly a private at Fort McPherson, Judge Samuel H. Sibley characterized the case as being one in which "a home had been wrecked at least four lives blighted, and even the very reputation of liberty loan drives placed at stake."

He expressed deep sympathy for the husband and wife who had become estranged of Vincent. He told Vincent he was convinced he had not adorned the officer's uniform with the intention of defrauding anyone, and was inclined to leniency.

logical school, who is at the head of the Tennessee Coal and Iron corporation, of Birmingham, was chosen as one of the trustees, and L. W. Roberts—better known as "Chip" Roberts, of Atlanta—was chosen as the other one.

Action was also taken to request the general assembly, at its next session, to pass a law that will make the president of the Alumni Association of the Technological school ex-officio a member of the board of trustees, as was done with the university.

W. H. Glenn, of Atlanta, is at present at the head of the Alumni society, and if the legislature follows the recommendation of the board, he will thus become ex-officio, a member of the board of trustees. The board also passed resolutions looking to the resumption of the athletic relations between the University of Georgia and Tech, the report of which will be found on the sporting page.

The Simmons DAY BED
Showing Construction

UNTIL Simmons Company brought out these beautiful Metal Beds, built for sleep—a woman never had much choice in selecting a bed.

Either a wooden bed to match the rest of the furniture. Looks very well, but soon creaks at the joints and insanitary into the bargain.

Or a metal bed of the old "gas pipe" type—sanitary, no doubt, if one does not mind its looks and its trick of rattling just when one is about to drop off to sleep.

Never a bed scientifically built for sleep!

Now, however, you have a wide choice in Simmons Metal Beds—all built for sleep.

From the wide variety of Simmons Period designs you may choose the special beds which make the strongest appeal to your tastes and needs.

Beds noiseless and steady, which actually induce the sound, relaxed sleep so necessary to tired mind and body.

In every room shared by two persons, Twin Beds, by all means! One sleeper does not disturb the other, or communicate colds or other infections.

THE SIMMONS DAY BED "Stratford"—Design 2067. Special Simmons construction. When closed as above, 26 inches wide. By pulling on lower frame, bed opens as shown in sketch—full width, 4 feet 3 inches. Made of Simmons seamless square tubing. Easy rolling casters on sliding section. Decorative colors and hardwood effects. It is a splendid, comfortable bed for the extra guest.

If your dealer does not show you the Simmons line, you need only write to us. We will see that they are shown to you.

Each Trustee's Vote to Settle TECH Existing Differences; Schools SURE Will Probably Meet Next Year

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.
The first rift in the black clouds that have hovered for two years over the athletic relations of the Georgia School of Technology and the University of Georgia, appeared yesterday, when the trustees of the Atlanta school passed resolutions to bring about the settlement of the differences.

In voting to restore the amicable relationship, the trustees of Georgia Tech stated that there was no possibility of a football meeting this year, as the schedules for both schools had been made out, and the season's games were undesirable. It is believed, however, that 1931 will see the teams of Georgia Tech and the university facing each other in athletic competition, and that time will be the occasion of joy to thousands of supporters of the two colleges throughout the south.

May be by Spring.
Just how soon this settlement may take place is not known, but it is almost a certainty that committees from both schools will arrange the schedule for the football meeting, and that there is a strong probability that Georgia Tech and the university will meet in baseball during the spring.

Falling in that, it seems almost certain that the football teams of the two schools will meet next fall, and the game will be just what was wanted by the gridders of Dixie. It is useless to estimate the vast crowds such a game would draw in Atlanta. Supporters of both colleges have felt through the years the estrangement of the schools, being deprived of the opportunity to witness battles that had always been regarded as the hardest fought of all struggles, athletic or otherwise.

Best Attended.
Those games were the best attended in the south, and after two years of anxious, patient waiting the fans of this section are hungry for the cessation of bitter hostility. The vast mobs of the old days will appear as nothing, and the "Rambling Rock of Georgia Tech" and the "Glory to Old Georgia" are wadded across the fields of battle.

The breaking off of athletic relations between the two schools was a cause for sorrow throughout the south, when the news was given in May, 1919. (The public has always taken the view that it was the result of the student body's actions committed by the student bodies of both institutions.)

Hoped For Settlement.
The south, since that time, has hoped for the re-establishment of this relationship along lines of a better understanding. This wish has come into closer contact with another: rivals, in an athletic way, each respecting the honor and skill of the other.

Past differences will be buried when the schools meet to consider the settlement. These bodies will wipe out the bitter memories of the schools will once more start out on a friendly basis.

Committee Adopted.
In the resolution adopted at their regular meeting yesterday the trustees recommended that each college appoint a committee to select the conditions which will result in the settlements. These committees will be selected from the student bodies, and will have full power to select for the matter of an amicable settlement in the hands of the students themselves, and the writer believes this will insure the re-establishment of relations.

Georgia Cheer Tech.
Who then the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech last fall, last fall, a score of "Georgia" boys who had come to Atlanta to cheer with those of the Tech students, mingling their cheers with those of the Tech students, calling upon their hosts to replace the fiery thrusts of the Panthers.

And then when the Red and Black football team was battling for recognition in the Atlanta Athletic club's national tournament last fall, Tech students, who were cheering that was inspired by the noble struggle of the Red and Black against the nation's stiffest basketball competition.

No Real Hatred.
We relate these instances to show that hatred never existed for the instant among the two student bodies. There was intense rivalry, and there will be this time, but a perfect understanding will accompany the competition.

Resolutions Passed.
The resolutions passed by the trustees are as follows: "Whereas, attention of this board has been called to the suggestion of a football game this season between Tech and the University, thus re-establishing amicable relations between the athletic activities of the two institutions; be it resolved, that this season's schedule of both institutions has been fully arranged, and as post-season games are not desirable, the board cannot entertain the suggestion of a game between the two institutions this year."

Resolved further, that it is the view of this board that friendly relations should be re-established between the athletic activities of the two institutions; and be it recommended that the student bodies of each appoint a committee of fifteen each, to consider the conditions for the future, under conditions that may be mutually agreed upon.

"Now for Dempsey," Is Joyful Shout Of French Capital
Paris, October 13.—"Now for Dempsey," was the comment of the Paris boulevard today, over the victory of Georges Carpentier, the French boxing idol, over Battling Levinsky in Jersey City, N. J., last night.

No boastful expressions were heard, but "may the best man win" was the cry of the French, and all were saying, "The fight created less interest than the bout between Carpentier and Joe Beckett, the English heavyweight, but many Parisians sat up all night to await news of the result."

ATLANTA GIRL WINS 1st ROUND

Philadelphia, Pa., October 13.—(Special.)—Miss Alexa Stirling, the fair Atlanta girl who set up a local golf record here yesterday, continued her victorious way today in the first round of the annual Bertie Cup classic, being played over the Huntingdon Valley Country club's course.

Miss Stirling met and disposed of Mrs. Cateb F. Fox, the local player, by 7 up and 5 to go, and will meet Miss Marion Hollins, the New York girl, tomorrow in what promises to be one of the best matches of the season. Miss Hollins today erased Miss Edith Cummings, the Chicago lassie, 1 up in 21 holes.

In her match against Mrs. Fox, Miss Stirling sliced a bad one over the green, hit a stump and finally reached the farway in 2 at the first hole against Mrs. Fox. She was down after a 16-foot putt for a half. When she missed, the match was over, 7 to 5.

Miss Stirling:
Out 7 4 5 5 3 4 4 4 2
In 3 2 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
Mrs. Fox:

"On to Vandy" is the cry at Tech now, for tonight the Golden Tornado veers northward and sweeps on toward the Tennessee capital. Twenty-eight strong, they roll out of the Union station, all with the one grim determination to wallop the Commodores and to establish direct claim on the S. I. A. championship for 1929.

Spirit is running high out on the Tech campus today, and the student body is as excited over the game as a bunch of kids with a new toy wagon. There's going to be a big spirit meeting, Tech tonight will be all probability, the supporters of the White and Gold will parade to town to bid a fond enthusiastic adieu to their gridders heroes.

The Yellow Jackets go to Vanderbilt with the odds in their favor. To say the least, there is no team in the south today that can compare with the Tech team on paper. Then, too, the dispatches coming in from the Commodores' hangout all seem inclined to say that Tech ought to win, but that Vandy has a chance.

Such acknowledgments as these are not made in football if there is an even chance for a victory and a face of things, one is forced to believe that Vandy would rather do it, but they have not forgotten their crawling before the Commodores. They have not forgotten their crawling before the Commodores. They have not forgotten their crawling before the Commodores.

The First Triple Play Unassisted Ever Staged in a World's Series

Bill Wambach, of the Indians, made baseball history in the fifth game of the world's series by staging a triple play unassisted. It was the first play of its kind in the history of the world's series.

It was the second unassisted triple killing pulled off in the big leagues. Neal Hall, also a Cleveland player, had pulled off a similar feat a whole while July 19, 1909, against Boston at Cleveland. Wambach's great play came in the fifth inning. Kilduff and Miller were on first and second, by virtue of their singles. Mitchell, who had been on first, was hit by a line drive from Wambach, and he was out. Kilduff and Miller were then hit by a line drive from Wambach, and they were out. Wambach's great play came in the fifth inning.

Referee McDonald Loses Bout To Kilonis and Nestor; Greek Demetria Refuses to Wrestle

INDIANS ARE HONORED BY CLEVELAND

Cleveland, Ohio, October 13.—Cleveland tonight paid tribute to its world champion baseball team in a public demonstration in Wade Park attended by approximately 50,000 persons. So great was the enthusiasm that it finally became uncontrollable and broke through ropes marking the stage where Cleveland's baseball players sat, smashed chairs, pushed several persons into a small lake and vocally and physically expressed its joy over the score of athletes who brought up this city its first baseball championship.

In a little hollow in the park—a natural amphitheater—was the stage where seats were reserved for Mayor W. F. Fitzgerald, the players and others who took part in the program. Long before the thousands of fans began assembling on the hillside, the crowd was so large that it was necessary to erect scaffolding to hold the thousands of fans who were gathered on the hillside.

At 7 o'clock the hillside was down upon the stage. Kilonis, a ball player in the spotlight, worked were set off, bands played and the crowd was so large that it was necessary to erect scaffolding to hold the thousands of fans who were gathered on the hillside.

Each player as he was introduced, got a wild ovation, and a roar of enthusiasm being almost continuous. When the last speech had been made, the mayor signalled that the program was over, but the crowd refused to leave. It rushed forward through the ropes and hundreds climbed to the stage to shake hands with the players. Babies were passed over shoulders to be kissed, hats were smashed and chairs shoved aside, but while many persons were somewhat bruised and battered, there were no reports of serious injuries.

Refuse to Leave.
Squads of police ranged through the mass of people trying to get to the stage, but without avail. Out for a good time, the fans refused to leave. Finally, the ball players were slipped off the stage, and the crowd was so large that it was necessary to erect scaffolding to hold the thousands of fans who were gathered on the hillside.

Of course, it's early in the season to make any predictions, but it's not going too far to say that the Cleveland Indians are going to win the majority of the games on the schedule and are going to win the majority of the games on the schedule and are going to win the majority of the games on the schedule.

It is what threatened several times to develop into a free-for-all, with the audience protesting, but which was held in check by the match between John Kilonis, light heavyweight champion of Greece, and Mike Nestor, a heavy middleweight champion of Poland. Kilonis won the first round 142-12 minutes, and Nestor won the second round 111-2 minutes when he developed a Gutch leghold on Nestor, forcing the latter to get up. The boys played roughly from the start, and as the game progressed they grew rougher and rougher. In fact, they not only tried to knock each other for a flock of barnyard turkeys, but they also tried to knock each other for a flock of barnyard turkeys.

Donald for a goal in the first part of the second round, tearing his wardrobe on the chest, while Nestor held his feet and Nestor sat on his main chest. At this point pop bottles began to fly around the mat, but "Mac" came up for the air and the police had to be called in. The boys played roughly from the start, and as the game progressed they grew rougher and rougher.

Wilson Outwitted.
Although Brown had the advantage of Wilson in weight and strength, he did not show the speed of the lighter man, who struggled out of some mighty tough holds. Brown was not enough to overcome the weight of the heavier man, who struggled for many minutes before finally got a body hold that would win.

Brown worked much harder than Wilson in the first period. In the second, Wilson showed the advantage of weight, but he did not break through the holds of Brown. The third period was a close one, but Brown could have picked up considerably. It is quite possible that Brown would have won the match if he had not been outwitted by Wilson.

As a preliminary to the event, a boxing match was staged, a dusky youth named "Gorilla" winning the match, but when the fight narrowed down to two contestants, the "Gorilla" showed some speed.

When the match was scheduled to open, the ringside seats of the first row had nearly been filled. Even at the end of the match, the ringside seats were not completely filled.
